Beginning last September when I posted essays critical of Trump, my international essays on academia.edu stopped reaching their audiences. I first noticed a drop in visitors from the Philippines which had reached over 400 a month. There was also a decline in visitors from Spanish speaking countries. I sent screenshots showing I got no visitors from any international countries and ALL the visitors were from the USA. In the last couple of weeks, it has gotten worse. Many of my English have developed the same problem.

Here is an example of my critique of Trump. It shouldn't be problem – especially now when over half of Americans are anti-Trump. There is a correlation between Trump Hate Speech and an increase in U.S. violence; Assassination of Minnesota politicians (6-15-25) confirm Piazza's conclusions "I find that hate speech by politicians is a significant, substantive, driver of domestic terrorism." Studies by Hodwitz & Massingale; Piazza; Nacos, Shapiro, Bloch-Elkon demonstrate a correlation between hate speech and increased violence in US; School shootings death toll is awful = 800+ children-teenagers killed in US school shootings. CNN (2024) cites "82 school shootings". For four years, there have been 73+ school shootings. The surge began 2015, when Trump entered politics. Roughly around 2000, nine major anti-social behaviors began to emerge: one article stated 1 in 10 teachers gets physically assaulted today; Narcissism in the USA increased 25%, suicide increased 36%, assaults on health care workers increased exponentially, 2021 peak in hate crimes, increased intentional killing of policemen

It seems the most important and exceedingly difficult task of our time is to work on the construction of a new idea of reality."
It would seem "our reality" isn't working all that well.

Albert Einstein: We cannot solve our problems with the same thinking we used when we created them

I thought I might start with my most recent problems English essays not uploading properly and getting spam - all visitors being from the USA, China and Hong Kong. I started getting Spam-big time from these three countries. In light of the fact that there is a correlation between the spam from the USA and a drop in visitors from international countries, it would stand to reason that the spam plays a part in the decline of visitors from the international countries. It is only certain essays that I have problems with periodically: "Jeremiah's prophecy", "T'nalak Dream weaving", "Free will", "Cathars" "Critiques of Materialist Methods", and in the last couple of days my new approach essay. Problems seem to come and go - though the problem with international essays has been a constant unending problem

Years ago, Cusack made the observation, "Defining everything you do as spam is simply unacceptable!" as a result of the fact that my essays - many of which were recommended by PhD's were blocked by FB - 18 times in a year and a half. On top of that several essays were censored as being "Against community standards" I documented all this, mostly by emails.

Recent posts removed by FB: Dreaming folklore of Native Americans & T'nalak dream weaving of Bla'an & T'boli, Selective Attention, lunar calendar of native Americans, Jeremiah's prophecy, and music believe it or not - all of which involved indigenous tribes in one way or another. The essay on music cited the historical aspect of divine inspiration in Hinduism and the creation myth of the T'boli indigenous tribe. I should add that a FB boost of a Spanish translation got tagged for community standards - which I got corrected - but FB just re-deleted it. I had paid for that boost and never got a response or refunded.

Long after Cusack's observation I began to have problems with academia-edu, I have sent several emails to academia-edu support with (roughly 20 or so) screenshots showing ALL the visitors to my international essays are from the USA - none - zero - from international countries. The reply is always "There is no problem" It started last September when I start-ed posting essays critical of Trump often citing hate speech.

It appears I only have problems with certain essays - periodically and erratically. At times, for instance, I have also had some consistent problems on academia with essays about indigenous peoples. On academia, I have problems with essays uploading properly. When essays upload properly a notice appears on your profile saying that this essay has been uploaded to your profile. This essay did not upload properly late April 2025): "Wonder is the beginning of wisdom! - Socrates Kant's "beauty as a symbol of morality" compared to Filipino theory of meaning - Kagandahang-loob, "beauty-of-will" as a relational will "beauty of will" [loob] Saint Gregory Of Nyssa:, John O Donohue & Einstein" That essay highlights Filipino Ethics/Values

On top of that my Knowledge Commons account was suspended as "spam" - ALL my essays!

As Baruss and Mossbridge observe: Baruss and Mossbridge state that "As a result of studying anomalous phenomena or challenging materialism, scientists have been ridiculed for doing their work, been prohibited from supervising student theses, been unable to obtain funding from traditional funding sources, been unable to get papers published in mainstream journals, had their teaching censored, been barred from promotions and been threatened with removal from tenured positions. Students have reported being afraid to be associated with research into anomalous phenomena for fear of jeopardizing their careers. Other students have reported explicit reprisals for questioning materialism and so on. (Baruss, 2014b, P.L. Berger, 1970; H. L. Friedman & Krippner, 2010; Hess, 1992; Rossman & Utts, 2014; Sommer, 2014; cf. Chargaff, 1977; Jahn, 2001) Siler, Lee, & Bero, 2015) (Baruss and Mossbridge Transcendent Mind p.25)

With forethought and malice

Unfortunately, I have found that to be very true. I address several documented problem and I have a critique of materialist methods endorsed by four prominent researchers and psychologists. But Knowledge Commons suspended my account as spam.

Sr Director Evans of Kaiser Permanente Member Services sent me a written letter - by registered mail - that stated that my rights to KP services had been suspended for abusive conduct. As a point of order, that was the second notice I got from Evans. The first notice said that my rights had been suspended because my address was no longer in Maryland (I was moving to the Philippines). I responded that my official address with the Social Security Administration So, in this second notice Director Evans listed my critique of materialist methods as the number one (horrifically) abusive comment.

She quotes from a December 8, 2022 message I sent to my doctors: "I felt that the acceptance of the Definist fallacy and your refusal to acknowledge my rights and beliefs as extremely offensive" I even filed a complaint with the DOJ which was accepted. My position is endorsed by Dr. Koenig, Dr Wong, and Dr Farra, and Stefan Schindler"

It is very true that I find the materialist maxim that "spirituality is unreal" (as well as the materialist concept of the supernatural) very offensive - especially since the materialist argument includes a "loaded term" - putting it in the category of the Definist Fallacy. So, Evans position is that a critique of materialist methods which is endorsed by four prominent psychologists which from my research that fallacy which is in actually a delusion is widely accepted in academic circles is abusive, Telling a client that a critique of materialist method is “abusive – is freaking absurd – and sickening.

I do work very hard in researching and writing. Plus, I get recommendations on much of my writing from PhD's including Dr Stephen Farra, Dr Paul Wong, as well recognition from Dr Ingela Visuri. My writing is my intellectual property which is being deliberately targeted and sabotaged – for years persistently, consistently and with forethought and malice.

- I. Beginning last September my international essays stopped reaching their audience – French, German, Italian, Spanish, Filipino – which coincided with my posting essays critical of Trump

Essays about Filipino art used to be one of my top performers and at one point I had over 400 visitors from the Philippines in 30 days. Today visitors from the Philippines are 29. In one month, I got hundreds of views of Filipino art. Back in September when this started – right after I posted anti-Trump posts about the number of children killed coupled with studies that demonstrate a correlation between hate speech and terrorism and violence - I first noticed a decline in Visitors from the Philippines. Plus, I noticed one of my versions of Filipino art got hacked. When I did my research of the academia analytics – all the views came from the USA – none from the international audiences they were intended for. I list some examples below

1. Documented examples – ALL the views of these international essays were from the USA – looked like, spam when I overviewed them
2. Ang pangangailangan para sa kahulugan - magmaneho sa understand w/ bagong walang kamalay-malay na pananaliksik intro "Ang pinakamarangal na kasiyahan ay ang kagalakan ng pag-unawa" - Leonardo Da Vinci, William James, C Geertz, Roy Rappaport Einstein,

Commentary: For perspective: responses from Stephan Schwartz - author, scholar and researcher into remote viewing (and anti-Trump). Charlie – I understand and know about this problem. I am, as it happens, embroiled, in just such an issue as I write this to you. - Stephan - Dr Wong, a Christian psychologist said he has been getting threatening messages from FB because of spirituality.

That is not the only email I sent to academia support. I sent at least three others with screenshots showing that on all my international essays all the visitors were from the USA and I was getting no visitors from any of the international countries. And I add that views from international countries have declined. I send evidence of a problem to academia support. Academia support replies “There is no problem”!

Did you know there is a federal "internet agency" specifically charged with cyber "crime" and tasked with protecting American citizens. I wrote them and several other agencies. Actually, it was FBI agent McElwee who in 2019 - 2020 - told me that I should call the FBI cyber squad - saying what is happening to me sounds similar to techniques for "gaslighting used in intelligence.

Example of Cyberbullying- Gaslighting: I should start with an obvious, documented example of cyberbullying-gaslighting: "First Birth of Evil". You don't need a degree to know you have been hacked (actually cyber-gaslighting). One day I found this comment inserted into my notes on St Gregory of Nyssa in a word program on my computer.

"So, Gregory..... understands the entire Exodus narrative as an allegorical illustration of the soul's flight away from wickedness (the land of Egypt) to communion and friendship with our loving God (liberation, the Promised Land). The death of the firstborn fits directly into that allegorical framework. The slain Egyptian children don't literally signify dead kids; rather, they represent how we must destroy the roots of our wicked actions— "the first birth of evil" — before we can move on to virtuous liberation. So, the story is by all means a true one. It illustrates the reality of a battle with wickedness that forms an integral part of our quest to attain fellowship with the God."

That was long ago. My initial reaction was: Is this some kind of right-wing Christian extremist rant. – sick garbage! I mean "dead kids" or "first birth of evil?? – vs "Moses is a figure returning to God"

Later, when I was researching St Gregory views of Moses' ascent on Mount Sinai (which many think is a pivotal passage) and found a passage about the "first birth of evil" by St Gregory of Nyssa. Briefly I would highlight the ascent of Moses could be summed up as "The revelation of God to the great Moses began with light as its medium (διὰ φωτός), but afterwards God spoke to him through the medium of a cloud (διὰ νεφέλης), and when he had become more lifted up and more perfect, he saw God in darkness (ἐν γνόφῳ)." – which is similar to eastern nondualism. Both St Gregory of Nyssa and Denys the Areopagite agree that "abstractions and conscious thinking" automatically distort the "Absolute Truth"ⁱ – when I came across an essay written about St Gregory's writing about "The First Birth of Evil" which I had not been aware of.

Comment in Clarion Journal: First Birth of Evil

St. Gregory of Nyssa contends that the slaughter of Egypt's firstborn, if taken literally, would be morally intolerable. He therefore interprets the killing of the firstborn as the Christian's killing of personal vices early, before they can blossom into serious sins.ⁱⁱ

Commentary: I can't help but comment that - speaking of "First Birth of Evil" 800+ children & teenagers killed in US school shootings - excludes college shootings. Studies (Hodwitz & Massingale; Piazza; Nacos, Shapiro, Bloch-Elkon) show Trump's hate speech incites/increases violence in the USA - 73+ school shootings 610+ "mass shootings" for 4 years. + recent assassination of United Health CEO confirms Piazza's "I find that hate speech by politicians is a significant, substantive, driver of domestic terrorism." The bottom line is that this is "gaslighting" – harassment – and it never ends.

Academic Censorship, & Cyberbullying:

Background: I have had problems with cyberbullying-gaslighting since roughly 2018 - after I sent warning letters in February-March 2017 to the allies' embassies (Canada, France, UK, Germany) warning that America is in a might makes right historical cycle like Athens - after they defeated the Persians and bullied, threatened and intimidated their allies in the Delian League. Each letter was a bit different. I started with a letter to the French in February 2017 and "culminated in a letter to the Canadian embassy in March which stated In letters that I mailed to the embassies of our allies in Mid-March 2017, I stated: "I read an article which said that Trump's envoy to the United Nations was going to "take names" and dictate terms to the nations of the world. That is an utter disgrace. When it comes down to it, at times, Americans can be downright arrogant. Some Americans think they have all the power and all the answers. The truth of it is Americans don't even have the right question. History repeats itself and has definite cycles. I believe America is in the cycle of might-makes-right. After the Athenians defeated the Persians they rose to the undisputed and unchallenged leadership of the Greek world. They used their power to bully and dictate terms to their allies. The Athenians ended up massacring all the inhabitants of Lesbos on the argument that might-makes-right. Their policies ended up backfiring."

"Trump accused of 'near-sadistic' bullying of German Chancellor Angela Merkel.... Intelligence Revelation in 2020

Intelligence Leaks July 30, 2020: The title of an article in the Indy 100, Independent, stated that "Trump accused of 'near-sadistic' bullying of Angela Merkel for 'vicious attacks' in private phone call" The article went on to say How Bernstein of CNN observed that Although Trump "regularly bullied and disparaged" other leaders like Emmanuel Macron (France), Justin Trudeau (Canada) and Scott Morrison (Australia) However, his most "vicious attacks" were reserved for women, the report claims. Bernstein quoted one of his sources as calling Trump's phone calls with Merkel and May "near-sadistic". Some of the things he said to Angela Merkel are just unbelievable: he called her 'stupid,' and accused her of being in the pocket of the Russians. He's toughest with those he looks at as weaklings and weakest with the ones he ought to be tough with.

Acade4mic Censorship: Years ago, Carole Cusack, a leading author and sociology professor from Australia, observed: "Defining everything you do as spam is simply unacceptable! I'm three-quarters Irish (the other grandparent was Cornish so I'm 100 % Celtic)." I had told her that it is a good thing I am Irish - since it is said "An Irishman is not happy unless he is fighting. Cusack's observation resulted from the fact that my essays being blocked by FB 18 times in a year and a half. On top of that several essays – some which were truly endorsed by several PhD's - were censored as being "Against community standards" I documented all this, mostly by emails. She was addressing documented FB Problems as opposed to problems with academia.edu

I should start with the simple things. Censorship by FB Academic Harassment Additionally, essays – many of which are recommended by PhDs - have been removed as spam – here are 4 examples

All analyses of American deaths due to covid show a disproportionate number of Americans died (unnecessarily) due to covid compared to other European countries – estimates of unnecessary American deaths vary from 50,000 to 100,000

The Christian No Mask Madness without question produced a very large number of disproportionately high number of Americans who died of Corona Virus than most other European countries – by all accounts. A recent article stated that one hundred thousand Americans died of the corona virus that shouldn't have compared to the Canadian death toll from corona virus.

America's excess mortality rate from COVID-19 is significantly worse than Europe's Janine Aron, John Muellbauer September 29, 2020

The United States has 4% of the world's population, but 21% of global infections and deaths attributed to COVID-19. This column shows that when comparing excess mortality rates, a more robust way to report deaths from a pandemic, the cumulative excess mortality rate in Europe from March to July is 28% lower than the US rate, contradicting the Trump administration's claim that the European rate is 33% higher. The northeastern United States - the region most comparable to individual European countries - has experienced much worse excess mortality than the worst-affected European countries. If the United States had kept its excess mortality rate at European level, approximately 57,800 American lives would have been saved. <https://voxeu.org/article/us-excess-mortality-rate-covid-19-substantially-worse-europe-s>

I have had problems ever since I sent the allies letters saying America is in a "might makes right" historical cycle similar to Athens, when after defeating the Persians, they bullied, Intimidated, and

You don't need a degree to know you have been hacked. Of course, in my case, it is not hacking - it is "gaslighting" where the hacker wants you to find how they have tampered and mangled things. I work very, very, hard in my research and writing. Legally, it is my "intellectual property" and my view is that FB and academia.edu are no better than Nazi book burners. And academia.edu – being "scientific" should be objective – but are not.

An immediate problem is that my Spanish translation of "Spirit as Life-Force: Symbol, Archetype: Origins, Myth and Meaning" being blocked by FB. My FB page did get shut down which I appealed and my page got reinstated. FB notified me that - after all – there had been no violation of community standards (never is) related to the Spanish translation of "Spirit as Life-Force: Symbol, Archetype: Origins, Myth and Meaning". Then I began getting messages from FB threatening to shut down my FB page. Dr P Wong, a very prominent psychologist, author, and keynote speaker at an international logotherapy conference, stated he has the same problem. He also stated unequivocally it is due to his writing on spirituality (he is a Christian psychologist). My view is the same – that I am being harassed because of my spirituality.

One computer expert told me it is well known that FB has a black book of people they persecute - from talking with people - spirituality seems to be the number one target. Then this notification from FB = "We removed your post" Charlie Peck Oct 9, 2024" The post removed was an excerpt from article in National Geographic : Strokes are on the rise—and these are the reasons why The biggest risk factor for stroke is the same in every country in the world, and it's also the easiest one to reverse. By Tara Haelle October 4, "2024 Strokes increased especially among "young people!" Growing risk factors range from climbing rates of obesity to hotter temperatures from climate change, but the single biggest risk factor is the same across every region in the world: high blood pressure, responsible for a little over half of all strokes, the Lancet study found. Another study published last month in JAMA Network Open revealed that more than half of all Americans with high blood pressure don't even know they have hypertension—including 93 percent of those aged 18 to 44. Fortunately, of all the risk factors for stroke, hypertension is also one of the easiest to monitor and change. An ongoing problem is that my Filipino essays on academia.edu - a website with 253 million members for scholars and students - are not uploading properly – in particular my Filipino art essay (in Filipino) highlighting famous Filipino artists. Visitors from the Philippines on academia.edu have continually declined from well over 400 to 52 yesterday. Pages read of the Filipino art essay declined from over 400 to zero in just a few months. Sally, from academia support asked me to re-upload the Filipino art essay from scratch – which I did. It did upload correctly. But the views were entirely from the USA. Similarly, all my international essays have the same problem – Spanish, German, French. All views are from the USA. Sally from academia support stated that 'Yes, I do have a problem' but that academia is "too busy" and won't do anything about it.

I have academic censorship and cyber bullying problems all the time – ever since I sent the allies letters saying America is in a "might makes right" historical cycle similar to Athens, when after defeating the Persians, they bullied, intimidated, and threatened their allies in the Delian League. In letters that I mailed to the embassies of our allies in Mid-March 2017, I stated: "I read an article which said that Trump's envoy to the United Nations was going to "take names" and dictate terms to the nations of the world. Intelligence Leaks July 30, 2020: The title of an article in the Indy 100, Independent, stated that "Trump accused of 'near-sadistic' bullying of Angela Merkel for 'vicious attacks' in private phone call"

Both FB and academia.edu have had years to deal with these problems - Years. Academia.edu told me - yes, I have a problem - but they are "too busy" - Academia.edu is irresponsible and lacks moral backbone. FB has never responded to any of my complaints or requests for review of essays blocked at all - So, yeah,fk them. Years and years. They know there is a problem and refuse to do anything.

The recent spate of problems – by coincidence – occurred shortly after I posted an article critical of Trump: "At his best, man is the noblest of all animals; separated from law and justice he is the worst." Aristotle American Society has Serious Problems. In the graph above, school shootings in the USA were over 73 school shootings a year for three consecutive years in a row. There has also been the surge appears to have begun roughly around 2015 - roughly the time when Trump with his racist rhetoric and hate speech entered politics in the USA. As a point of information, I would add that the low numbers in 2020 were because of the covid pandemic.

The recent spate of problems – by coincidence – occurred shortly after I posted an article critical of Trump: At his best, man is the noblest of all animals; separated from law and justice he is the worst. Aristotle

None of my international essays are reaching their intended target audiences. It is clear to me that the essays are being blocked because someone doesn't want my criticism of Trump and the US Government to reach the international community. A few of my connections said that school shootings should be the top priority for the US government – but it is not. There will never be a task force because a task force would necessarily have to conclude that Trump and prominent American leaders modeling anti-social behavior is a significant underlying cause of school shootings and mass shootings.

Deliberate and intentional sabotage Academic Censorship: So, Yeah, Life does not get better than this!

I have academic censorship and cyber bullying problems all the time – ever since I sent the allies letters saying America is in a “might makes right” historical cycle similar to Athens, when after defeating the Persians, they bullied, Intimidated, and threatened their allies in the Delian League. It is true that American academics do not have the right question: Spirituality is about people not the supernatural.

As I said - you don't need a degree to know you have been hacked.

1. Here is Rebecca's Epiphany poem - which is a beautiful and wonderful expression of her spirituality and her personal reaction to her personal spiritual experiences

The gift and the curse of this show
Color my world in shades of blue
I must believe or not believe
Stay blind or walk the path to you
And while I surrender to the mystery
All the feelings come too
I'm fractured by this weighted view

In my essay on "Divine Perception", I discovered that Rebecca's wonderful poem had been doctored and tampered with. Here are the two lines that had been tampered with

"All feelings also come
I'm fractured by this weighted view"
Those two lines in Rebecca's poem has been tampered with and changed to
"All emotions also come
I am offended by this weighty sight”

I personally feel that Rebecca's poem is an incredibly wonderful exquisite expression of a spiritual person's feelings and intellect - when challenged by unknown influences in human consciousness. It is sickening that anyone would intrude into your privacy – and then hack a wonderful work of art. It tells you what a despicable person this is.

2. Censorship of my essay on social consciousness by the College of Wooster

Preface: For the record – Wikipedia cites only 3 references for social consciousness – the most prominent being an argument by Karl Marx in his theory of communism. I write a lot about spirituality but I write more about social consciousness. Historically, there is an inter-relationship between spirituality and social consciousness.

From my essay on Myths as Symbolic Maps: Mesopotamian Gods as Maps/Models of Social-Moral Order 1. Shamash: The solar deity and judge of gods and men, Shamash was known as the god of justice and equity. He was a member of the Anunnaki, a special class of Mesopotamian gods. 2. Marduk: The Babylonian god of justice, compassion, healing, and magic, Marduk was also the patron god of Babylon and was sometimes considered the god of creation. 3. Enki: The Babylonian god of wisdom and fresh waters, Enki was also the god of magic and the patron of craftsmen, artisans, and exorcists. 4. Nabu: The god of wisdom and learning, Nabu was the scribe of Marduk and had the ability to make prophecies come true by writing them. 5. Inanna: Also known as Ishtar or Astarte, Inanna was the goddess of sex, war, and justice. She was also known as the Queen of Heaven and was believed to have the ability to change a person's gender. 6. Enlil: A central deity in the Mesopotamian worldview, Enlil was both creator and destroyer, with unalterable authority and control over fate. 7. Anu: The Mesopotamian god of the sky, Anu was also the King of Gods. He was sometimes attributed with the creation of humans with the assistance of his sons Enlil and/or Enkim

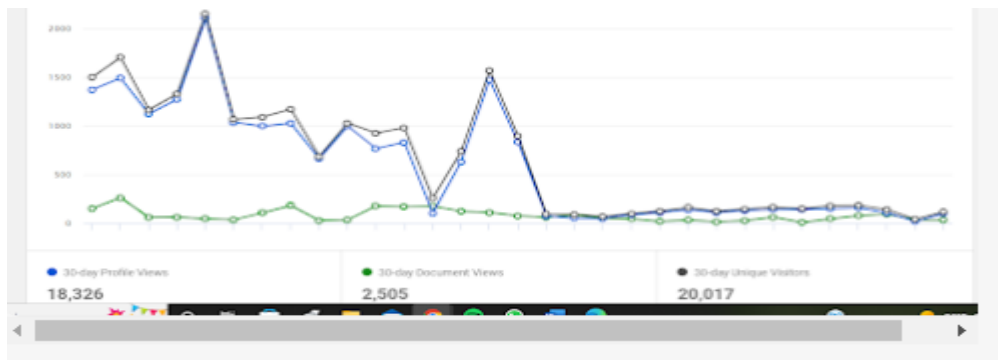

On top of that several scholars emphasize the link between social consciousness and spirituality. Durkheim's model: "The forces before which the believer bows are not simple physical energies, such as are presented to the sense and the imagination; they are social forces," Ramon Reyes Model from prehistoric societies in the Philippines: "In sum, one social and moral order encompasses the living, the dead, the deities and the spirits, and the total environment."

My essay on "social perception – social consciousness" was censored - blocked by the College of Wooster. Email from College of Wooster "Your message to alumni@wooster.edu couldn't be delivered. A custom mail flow rule created by an admin at livewooster.onmicrosoft.com has blocked your message. bad-stuff"

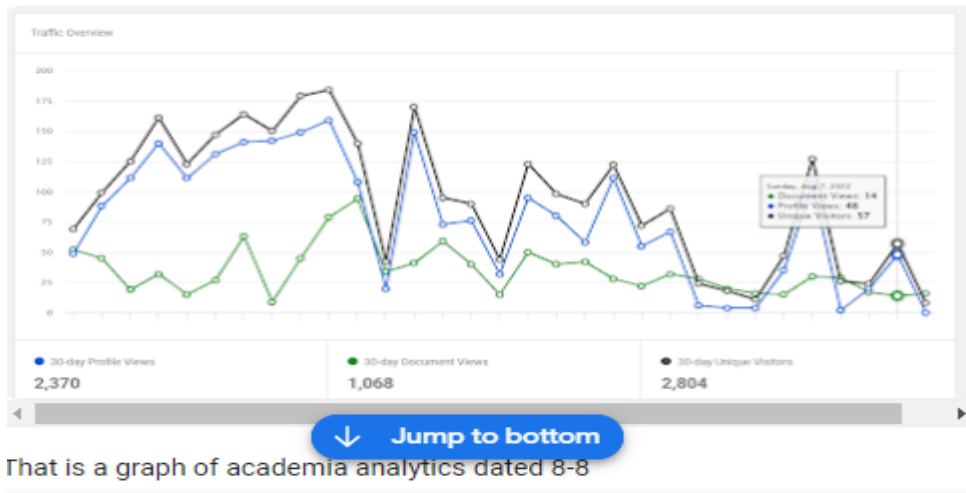

Yep - I am one of those damn radicals! Social consciousness!??? It is a bit scary – actually that is radical in western academia. In contrast Eastern "collectivist" cultures have social consciousness embedded as pro-social norms. For instance, in Indian culture has the concept of Dharma which emphasizes social roles and duties. In Filipino culture, there is the concept of bayanihan which conveys – community values.

3. On academia, I have had Four cataclysmic declines in views

Point of information: I have had four cataclysmic declines in views on academia.edu. Here is a graph from one of them – for which I have gotten no explanation. Two graphs of academia.edu analytics from two different dates – tiem periods both cover an overlapping time period from 7-7 to 7-21. The two different graphs show two contrasting views – one dead and flat line and the other of the same time period very vibrant and active. My "read" is that that is not random – and intentional.

That is a graph of academia analytics form 7-21

That is a graph of academia analytics dated 8-8

Addendum I: Besides having problems being anti-Trump, I have run into some horrific prejudices about spirituality – which deserves mention.

Preamble: Sr Director Evans of Kaiser Permanente Member Services sent me a written letter - by registered mail no less - stating that my rights to KP services had been suspended for abusive conduct. Director Evans listed my critique of materialist methodology as the number 1 abuse.

“December 8, 2022 “I felt that the acceptance of the Definist fallacy and your refusal to acknowledge my rights and beliefs as extremely offensive” I even filed a complaint with the DOJ which was accepted. My position is endorsed by Dr. Koenig, Dr Wong, and Dr Farra, and Stefan Schindler”

It is very true that I find the materialist maxim that “spirituality is unreal” very offensive – especially since the materialist argument includes a “loaded term” – making it a Definist Fallacy. Below is a description of the critique of materialist methodology. In a nutshell, the critique centered on the materialist argument that spirituality is “intangible and beyond the senses.”

The psychologists, William R. Miller and Carl E. Thoresen, state in their article, “Spirituality, religion and health: an emerging field of research”: “A philosophical basis for this perspective is materialism, the belief that there is nothing to study because spirituality is intangible and beyond the senses.” That the pivotal part of that argument is a fallacy – specifically the “Definist fallacy” because it uses “loaded” terms which prevents any real dialogue or communication. “The Definist Fallacy occurs when someone unfairly defines a term so that a controversial position is made easier to defend. Same as the Persuasive Definition.” (Internet Encyclopedia of Philosophy) “Death” of course is “intangible and beyond the sense” – which would make “Death a figment of your imagination.”

Some documented experiences

For perspective documented emails I sent to FBI agent McElwee. Besides being anti-Trump I have encountered serious harassment by professionals over transcendental spiritual experiences.

At the bottom of the barrel – here is another issue: Highlights of dreams, some documented by emails, all with consistent and reasonable interpretations:

(1) Precognitive Dream about 'Pakistan and 'Nuclear War' – from email - 1-18-2019 – a month later India launched an attack against Islamic Jihadists in Pakistan - I came across this update “Former US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo has claimed that he was awakened to speak to his then Indian counterpart Sushma Swaraj who told him that Pakistan was preparing for a nuclear attack in the wake of the Balakot surgical strike in February 2019 and India is preparing its own escalatory response. "I do not think the world properly knows just how close the India-Pakistan rivalry came to spilling over into a nuclear conflagration in February 2019. The truth is, I don't know precisely the answer either; I just know it was too close," Pompeo writes.

(2) A Hybrid Dream-Perception: Precognitive "Tag" (a central action with one or two details) of the "incel" terrorist in Canada in late April, 2018. (3) Dream about Libya (2-26-2019), A month later the U.S. forces left Libya (4) Synchronicity with Muslim lone terrorist attack in Strasburg, France attack - dream (9-19-20) (5) Dudayev (Chechen leader) Dream – dream had several details matching the death of Dudayev the Chechen leader (6) Fredericksburg bomb (civilian) Several details of a dream matched the death of a woman by a bomb

B. Highlights from forty years of conscious perceptions (1) my recent 10-30-20 email to FBI agent McElwee warned of a "domestic terrorist" threat referring to a "bomb" as the weapon. which is related - of course - to the Nashville bombing on Christmas day 2020 (2) My very detailed, specific, and notarized warning to the FBI on October 18, 1981 of an impending attack by the then active Weathermen terrorist group. Some [accurate] details are: group, fabricating bombs, money, women, 22 put together, New York, death, as well as the terrorist weathermen's manifesto. (3) A very brief (phoned in) warning to the FBI before the assassination attempt on president Reagan (4) I called – warned the CIA before 9/11.

Commentary and Reflections

As Jean MacPhail, author and scholar, states that my spiritual-psychic experiences are unique – in part because they are correlated with external political events, in part because they have both “consistent” and “reasonable” interpretations as “perceptions of threats to the group” – which dovetails into Daryl Bem’s repeated successful experiments (involving over 10,000 subjects) which demonstrate instincts are a significant factor in precognition.

From forty years of (limited) experiences, it would appear readily apparent that a good analogy for my experiences would be to the engine of a jet fighter - in which the “psychic” aspect only “turns on” occasionally, depending on circumstances, and that most of my “perceptions” result from a synthesis of senses - a good historical-political situation sense seems very salient. My personal spiritual-psychic experiences have been invaluable in my writing and research – since I knew what I was looking for.

Point of order: “spirit and truth” (John 4: 23-24) and the Holy Spirit are my guiding lights. Actually, it is for that reason – like many other Americans - I vigorously oppose the politicization of Christ in America which has produced an abomination – a racist American president that has destabilized America.

Addendum II – more examples of Gaslighting – never stops

Another example - I was working on symbolism - from the article on Symbols and Indian thought I was sorting out the better parts and then copying and pasting them into a section for the Kant essay

This is what I copied from the essay

"We think in symbols, we act in symbols

We live in symbols, we learn in symbols"

This is what I found in my word program

"We live in symbols, we learn in symbols

Though man and his life ultimately are symbols"

This gaslighting happens all the time. Some time ago, on a French translation on a French FB psychology group member commented that my statement in the essay, "All people are all alike" was not right. Of course, I NEVER WROTE THAT.

Here is another recent hack - Most recent "hack" I didn't write this (part of the title to Jeremiah essay at the moment) - "preamble om Jply Spit im udAism and Christ" - should be "preamble on Holy Spirit in Judaism and Christ" -

There are certain essays I have periodic problems with. For example,

Intelligence Leaks July 30, 2020: The title of an article in the Indy 100, Independent, stated that "Trump accused of 'near-sadistic' bullying of Angela Merkel for 'vicious attacks' in private phone call"

1. the might makes right essay which centered on my letters in March 2017 to the allies' embassies explaining America was in a historical cycle similar to Athens after they defeated the Persians when Athens bullied, threatened and intimidated their allies in the Delian League. In July 2020, an intelligence leak The article went on to say How Bernstein of CNN observed that Although Trump "regularly bullied and disparaged" other leaders like Emmanuel Macron (France), Justin Trudeau (Canada) and Scott Morrison (Australia) However, his most "vicious attacks" were reserved for women, the report claims.
2. my Jeremiah prophecy essay has been vandalized several times
3. I have had similar problems uploading the Edgar Cayce essay,
4. and of course,
5. and the Cathars essay for some reason and a couple others.

Addendum III – perspective: Make America Great Again - Trump and Republicans are Modeling Antisocial Behavior

Background: I have had serious censorship problems periodically – unending it seems – since 2018-2019. I connected with FBI agent Michelle McElwee in December 2018 after receiving two emails from two different U.S. Senators – Senator Van Hollen and Senator Hassan – which has images attached. It took me a week to figure out that when I clicked on the images the images actually came from a screenshots folder that had been inserted onto my computer. The images in the screenshots folder began on January 2018 and went up to August 2018. The first one was a screenshot of a credit report and included an eclectic and eccentric choice of essays I had written. The last screenshots included a photo from my FB of the prior CIA director and a screenshot of an email to my former counselor which talked about a dream of a rattlesnake that bit me but did no harm. I sent the screenshots to FBI agent McElwee who had sent me her email address. I later sent some warnings including about the Nashville bombing. As I related problems I had, she advised me to contact the FBI cyber squad but their line was always busy. I later sent an email to the Federal "Interne agency" but got no response.

Perspective: "Day 1 for Trump":- overthrow of the US government (effectively) article:

WASHINGTON — Donald Trump has said he wouldn't be a dictator — “except for Day 1”. His list includes starting up the mass deportation of migrants, rolling back Biden administration policies on education, reshaping the federal government by firing potentially thousands of federal employees he believes are secretly working against him, and pardoning people who were arrested for their role in the riot at the Capitol on Jan. 6, 2021. “I want to close the border” Trump has said that “within two seconds” of taking office that he would fire Jack Smith, the special counsel who has been prosecuting two federal cases against him. (Trump on Day 1: Begin deportation push, pardon Jan. 6 rioters) Bolton a former head of US National Security has been warning for years now Trump is likely to withdraw the US from NATO and stated categorically Trump is psycho - which he is.

Political and religious leaders modeling anti-social behaviors are a significant Underlying cause in the exponential increase in the USA of serious anti-social behaviors. For instance, school shootings in the USA that are 57 times the entire total of school shootings in Europe, and other serious anti-social behaviors (huge increase in assaults on health worker and teachers, 25% increase in narcissism, and 36% increase in suicide.

The focus of my writing and research has been social consciousness and spirituality – particularly “relational spirituality” (which appears to be a new emerging “school of thought” in psychology) and transcendental spirituality – or spiritual-psychic experiences. I argue that recent research into music – in which there is a consensus that music is pivotal in the development of society (connectivity) and a “social self” – is a game changer because it counters the materialist view still ongoing in social psychology for instance in Allport's maxim – “There is no psychology of groups.” I argue the materialist ideology – is a self-fulfilling prophecy (Self-fulfilling prophecies are a well-documented phenomenon in psychology).

For me, this story began in September, 2016. I realized that America had a problem so I began with a post on FB in September 2016 - which I followed up with a letter to Congressman Ruppberger explaining that Trump's racist rhetoric and hate speech would incite extremists into action and cause a rise in hate crimes and right-wing white supremacist terrorist shooting spree.

In November 2016, the Huffington Post printed an article (which I highlighted in a FB post in 2018) that laid out the racial slurs and ethnic insults verbalized by Trump in his ceaseless and unending hate speech: "Donald Trump's affront to the Latino community reached new heights last week after Mexican-American journalist Jorge Ramos was forcibly removed from the presidential candidate's Iowa press conference. But it wasn't the first time Trump has offended Latinos....In Trump's speech when he announced his candidacy for president, he began by comparing Mexican immigrants to "rapists" and then decided to broaden the scope of his insult to all Latinos. Shortly after his initial "rapists" remark in his speech, the candidate expanded his comments beyond Mexico. "It's coming from more than Mexico," he added. "It's coming from all over South and Latin America..." Trump even insists the Mexican government is purposely shipping all its criminals into the U.S.

Not surprisingly, there was a horrific increase in hate crimes as well as White Supremacist shootings. In both 2017 and 2018 there was a 17% increase in hate crimes – as recorded by the FBI as well as a severe spike in white supremacist mass shootings in both 2017 and 2018.

As an additional point of information, I have written five essays on racism since then and advocated additional training for police to decrease the high disproportional killings of blacks in the USA (facts are there but you have to dig for them). Title of article in the Washington Post that was published on 6-9-22: "Poll: Black Americans fear more racist attacks after Buffalo shooting. Two years after George Floyd's murder, nearly 8 in 10 Black Americans say there has been little or no improvement in how police treat Black people", according to a Washington Post-Ipsos poll (see footnote).

Since 2018-2019 when these problems began my thinking has developed and evolved. I had posted essays titled "Might makes right" about Trump and my letters to the embassies of the allies – which got mangled. Two essays – one French and one English got destroyed - in two different ways. One had the paragraphs randomly redistributed so it made no sense. The other had a pivotal paragraph removed – so the essay was castrated so to speak. There was an essay posted on FB to which I got a response saying one sentence of mine stated "All people are all alike" - which of course I never said. My Jeremiah essay got mangled as well.

In any case it became increasingly clear my cyber punk was a Trump psycho who targets essays which indicate he or she is a racist. I started a discussion on academia.edu that highlighted the Filipino Approach of "Relational will" - Free Will vs Determinism: "Studies... have linked a diminished belief in free will to stress, unhappiness, and a lesser commitment to relationships." and weaker morals. Extreme Individualism vs "relational will": K Gergen, D Hays, J Reyes, R Iletto, Mercado.... A Flaw in Materialist Methods - I got zero participants - none. That is NOT normal traffic.

For the record - In contrast on, humanities commons, I posted the same essay in four languages and last I looked I had gotten roughly 50 downloads each on my that Free will essay. Yet I had zero participants in my academia discussion? Furthermore – this is the second discussion I held on Free will in academia. The first had a fair number of participants. The difference was is that in this second discussion I added the emphasis on the Filipino "relational will": K Gergen, D Hays, J Reyes, R Iletto, Mercado – In my view it is more balanced and more broad-based and scientific. Of course, Trump and his followers have some serious racist biases. In fact, on Ionos my website manager I had some problems with Filipino essay which "disappeared from analytics. I was able to backtrack and find them. I sent FBI agent McElwee emails with screenshots.

More perspective: When a U.S. Secretary of Defense denounces - publicly - Trump as a "threat to the constitution" - and Republicans - Americans don't listen

In an article on June 3, 2020 in the Atlantic By Jeffrey Goldberg, "James Mattis Denounces President Trump, Describes Him as a Threat to the Constitution"

James Mattis, the esteemed Marine general who resigned as secretary of defense in December 2018 to protest Donald Trump's Syria policy, has, ever since, kept studiously silent about Trump's performance as president. But he has now broken his silence, writing an extraordinary broadside in which he denounces the president for dividing the nation, and accuses him of ordering the U.S. military to violate the constitutional rights of American citizens.

"Donald Trump is the first president in my lifetime who does not try to unite the American people—does not even pretend to try. Instead, he tries to divide us," Mattis writes. "We are witnessing the consequences of three years of this deliberate effort. We are witnessing the consequences of three years without mature leadership. We can unite without him, drawing on the strengths inherent in our civil society. This will not be easy, as the past few days have shown, but we owe it to our fellow citizens; to past generations that bled to defend our promise; and to our children."

Later Trump installed a "political officer" in the Pentagon to make sure military officers were kept in line. Dick Cheney the Republican Vice President under President Bush publicly stated he is voting for Harris because Trump has demonstrated he is unfit for office

Christ several times said one should judge something by its fruits!"For whatever a man sows, that he will also reap" Gal 6: 7-9.in USA - over 73 school shootings for the last three consecutive years & over 610 "mass shootings" for the past four consecutive years + 5 antisocial behaviors; You reap what you sow - U.S. leaders modeling antisocial behavior

For perspective - article from Politico:

The prospect of a second Trump presidency has the intelligence community on edge Trump sought major changes at the intel agencies in his first term; former officials say he could be more radical in a second. "Trump, who already tried to revamp intelligence agencies during his first term, is likely to re-up those plans — and push even harder to replace people perceived as hostile to his political agenda with inexperienced loyalists, according to interviews with more than a dozen people who worked in his administration." "He wants to weaponize the intelligence community. And the fact is you need to look with a 360-degree perspective. He can't just cherry pick what he wants to hear when there are so many U.S. adversaries and countries that don't wish the U.S. well," said Fiona Hill, a top Russia adviser on the National Security Council in Trump's administration who has regularly criticized his policies. "If he guts the intel on one thing, he'll be partially blinding us."

During the Trump administration, both Japan's Defense Minister and France's Defense Minister publicly announced that American intelligence was flawed - which to my knowledge has never happened before. Personally, I think Trump already successfully "infiltrated" intelligence with his drones. Unbelievably – after the January 6 attack on the capital NATO intelligence publicly stated that the Trump insurgents had inside help from officials within the US government. To be honest, at this point my conclusion is that – in my situation - since the DOJ rejected my well documented problem and blatant harassment and discrimination – that the DOJ is complicit with the vilification and degradation of spirituality – or anything to do with social consciousness. My read is that within the US g American Society has Serious Problems. School shootings in the USA were over 73 school shootings a year for three consecutive years in a row. The surge appears to have begun roughly around 2015 - roughly the time when Trump with his racist rhetoric and hate speech entered politics in the USA. As a point of information, I would add that the low numbers in 2020 were because of the covid pandemic.

“The US has had 57 times as many school shootings as the other major industrialized nations combined” While my emphasis is on academic anti-social teachings, it is self-evident that a “president” and high-profile Republican and Christian leaders modeling antisocial behaviors would be a very significant underlying cause as well. My argument in a nutshell is that materialist-academic ideology which undermines prosocial values (McGilChrist, Sheldrake, David Hay, V Enriquez) primes the pump and the virulent racism of Trump and right-wing Christian leaders incites and activates extremists.

Seven Major Anti-Social Behaviors Emerged roughly since 2000

- 1. CDC: Suicide rates increased approximately 36% between 2000–2021.
- 2. All time high in mass shootings 2023 - 559 Mass shootings in 2023 so far
- 3. according to the Washington Post, hate crimes are at an all-time high in 2021 with 826 Filipinos reporting themselves as victims of hate crimes.
- 4. Assaults on teachers dramatically increased - not only in the US but worldwide.
- 5. Assaults on healthcare workers increased exponentially - also world-wide
- 6. epidemic (25% increase) in narcissism in western countries (Twenge, etc.).
- 7. The Christian led ‘Antisocial No Mask Madness’ deserves special mention. Americans are 4% of the world's population. However, Americans represent 20.6% of the World's dead. Analyses of the number of unnecessary excessive deaths compared to other countries varies from 50,000 to 100,000
- 8. a recent problem with attacks on Teachers worldwide has emerged in countries such as USA, Ireland, UK, Canada, Germany, Australia, New Zealand I should note that from my thumbnail research collectivist countries such as Japan, Philippines, Malaysia appear to have a lesser problem with assaults on teachers. Spain for some reason also appears to have a lesser problem.
